So you think you can play a wicked game of five-card stud?

Then pull up a chair, put on your poker face and ante up.

Pokersam is dealing.

No, this is no ordinary computer card game. This one has personality. A sense of humor. And a voice.

Pokersam comes equipped with the famous S.A.M. speech synthesizer, developed by Don't Ask for Tronix.

Pokersam narrates the whole game for you. He names the cards, tells you his bets, keeps you posted on what's in the pot, cracks jokes, complains about his cards, your cards, even the food.

You might say he puts his mouth where his money is.

Atari version requires 32K
